Playing With Light

Friday December 8, 2023 7:30 (Eastern Time)

Topic

What is the session about: My session is called Playing with Light and that is for a good reason. Today I want to show you all kinds of different forms of light and how you can use these types to your advantage. Every landscape demand different weather conditions and today I'm telling you how I make my choices and how you can do it yourself. I'm showing how you can create the most stunning colors on the most boring blue sky days. I have lots of example images, stories and enthusiasm prepared for you!

Biography

Hallo, I am Guido van de Water, 40 years old and I'm a landscape / nature photographer, OM System ambassador and Youtuber from the Netherlands. On my You tube channel I upload two new videos every week all about landscape Photography. You've recently seen one from my European road trip at one of your regular meetings. These videos can be on location videos but also tips and tricks videos. My biggest passion is photographing nature with atmospheric conditions. I love moody foggy mornings and always searching for that awesome light. I also give workshops and do lectures like the one I'm doing for you. I am always willing to share my knowledge and thinking process on how I approach an. Hopefully You will find some inspiration and ideas after you have joined me in the live session.
