A brief description re Living the African Dream

A photographic journey through Africa, showing wildlife, conservation and communities. With lots of stories from the bush. Hear what it is like to live and work in a safari camp.

Bio

Born in the UK and from an early age had a passion for wildlife and photography, watching Born Free at the age of 5 years she decided she wanted to visit Africa. Spending over 16 years living and working in Africa in the hospitality industry, only returning to the UK 2020 due to the pandemic as no one was travelling on safari.

Alison met her husband in Zambia, who was working at another camp and they had a bush wedding. During their time in Africa they were involved with conservation projects, especially cheetahs which are her passion. Also helping support a couple of primary schools, raising money to build desks and new classrooms.

On returning to the UK Allison became a volunteer for the cheetah conservation fund UK - helping to raise awareness and funds. Cheetahs are becoming endangered and need our help.

Gained my ARPS in September 2021, Alison uses canon equipment.
